Project Overview

bluearchtech.com

Blue Arch Technology Services is a start up business founded by Ken Smith.

Ken came to Total Design Shop with a logo and website that was functional with great content but wanted to improve the visual appeal. He was specifically looking for a clean web design and an easier way to manage the functionality he was looking to add. We took Ken's savvy business sense and commitment to quality customer service and came up with this design.

The website is a custom Wordpress theme used to manage content. We've also included some additional plugins to manage the whitepaper information gathering and download monitoring.

"I have used Total Design Shop as my website designers since I started my business. They are excellent to work with. Todd and his team really listened to what I wanted and delivered a website design that I am very pleased with. It is not only what I asked for, but is easy for me to change when necessary. Not only did the Total Design Shop team work with my short time frame, they also worked within my budget. I highly recommend them to anyone who needs a quality design team."
